About the Presenters:

Sandra Walker is a Biogist/ Lab Manager by profession, (educated at Cornell University (BA) and Syracuse University (MS)) and retired from Biogen Idec after a successful launch of a new hemophilia pharmaceutical.

She began her AKC career as a teenage obedience exhibitor with a standard poodle, having found her parent's Bedlingtons a bit difficult to train. She entered the world of Papillons and joined the Papillon Club of America in 1979 and is in the PCA Hall of Fame three times as both breeder and exhibitor. Her first Pap, (Am/Can CH & OTCH Josandre Touch of Mischief – bred by Mary Jo Loye and Pearl George) is the only multiple group winning OTCH in the history of the toy group. She is also the breeder of the first dog to win BOB and HIT at the PCA National Specialty.

Sandra has judged Papillons all over the US and all over the world, including the PCA National Specialty and most of the regional specialties, and is dedicated to teaching the AKC standard. She has been on the Judges' Education Committee three times and has been AKC Gazette columnist. And she has been PCA's recipient of the Dog World Award for Service.

Sandra was approved to judge Papillons in 1990 and is currently approved to judge all obedience, Working group, Toy group and most of the Herding group.

Roseann Fucillo was born and raised in Massachusetts and presently calls Allendale, NJ her home. She has a BFA from Massachusetts College of Art and an MA from Seton Hall University. Presently retired from teaching, she began her career as a fashion designer working in NYC on Seventh Avenue designing Junior sportswear. Instead of painting and designing, she merged her love for art with her love for Papillons using her artistic eye for proportion and beauty. With a small breeding program, she has bred nearly fifty AKC Papillon Champions plus many titled performance dogs in obedience and agility since 1977. A retired teacher, and former fashion designer, Roseann continues to educate on the Papillon breed with mentoring and writing articles, mainly for the AKC Gazette Papillon column since 2003 to the present. She is a PCA HLM, a former Corresponding Secretary and Judge's Education Chair. And presently, is a member of the Papillon (Butterfly Dog) Club of UK, DWAA, PPC, PKC, and Secretary of the KCNNJ.
